A Message from Father Rick

Lent is almost over. Next Sunday will be Palm Sunday or Sunday of the Passion of the Lord. Let us not, however, give up our Lenten observances. Jesus in the Gospel this Sunday reminds us of the kind of death that He would go through, he said, "when I am lifted up from the earth, I will draw everyone to myself." By his death on the cross, Jesus was lifted up from the earth. Yet, we are aware that not everyone is drawn to the Lord. Just as only a handful of brave disciples remained at the foot of the cross, only very few are drawn to the Lord and to love him. Many are yet to believe and follow the Lord. We continue, therefore, to pray for all those who are drawn away from the Lord because of one reason or another. We pray also for those who are preparing to commit their lives to the Lord through the receptions of the Sacraments this coming Easter. We have few in our parish who will be baptized and confirmed. May they remain faithful and continue to grow in their faith and love of the Lord.
