A Message from Father Rick

Advent season is here. Our liturgy reminds us to be watchful and ready. Jesus came for the first time and only few people recognized him. He will come again in the final days. When that day comes, we will surely recognize him as he is. Only God himself knows when the actual second coming will happen. For the mean time we continue to commemorate and celebrate the day of his first coming through the liturgical celebration of Christmas. Through the Sundays of Advent we prepare ourselves through prayer and service and recognize Jesus who is ever present in our midst. Jesus comes to each of us in a most personal way, when we encounter him in our life of prayer and in our sincere life of service to our poor brothers and sisters. We also encounter Jesus in the sacrament like the Holy Eucharist and anointing of the sick. Through the weeks of Advent we joyfully prepare ourselves and strive to serve the Lord in our Brothers and sisters. I pray that as you actively participate in our Sunday Advent liturgies, you and your family will truly experience the blessings and the love of Christ.
