A Message from Father Rick

God's generosity is beyond measure and many times surprising. Like the Landowner in this Sunday's Gospel, God never stops looking for somebody to work in His vineyard. And when he finds one, He invites him to work for a fair salary. God gives not according to what one deserves but according to His abundant love. God's love is difficult to understand. How, for example, can He allow His Beloved Son to suffer and die. It is because God sees what we cannot see. There is a greater reality than suffering and death, and it is resurrection and eternal life. The way to eternal life is through the cross. For those who are willing to heed God's call to work in his vineyard, they will eventually receive His generous reward. Some may work longer and harder than others, but in the end, God can never be outdone in His Generosity. Each one will be rewarded, and the reward will surely surprise us.
