A Message from Father Rick

Two of the major churches worth visiting in Rome are the churches of St. Peter and St. Paul. Upon the burial places of these two great apostles huge Basilicas were erected. One can only be inspired how the faith of these two apostles become the foundation of what is now the Catholic Church and all the Christian Churches too. The Gospel this Sunday shows us the key to the victory of the apostles. It was their Faith in the Lord. Faith no matter how little could become the very foundation of a gigantic Church not only in terms of structures such as the huge Basilicas but also for people to embrace and profess. It is worth noting too that no matter how sturdy the foundations of these buildings, they need continued repairs and maintenance. The same way with our faith in the Lord, it has to be nourished weekly and even daily with no other than the source of faith itself, Jesus Christ. Let us therefore, take every opportunity to attend the celebration of the Eucharist as often as we are able. For almost two thousand years now The Basilica of St. Peter and Paul continue to stand, it is because of the Holy Eucharist being celebrated inside these Churches especially on Sundays.
